

Apprentice Wanted.
Boy 14 to 16 years of age wanted at this office, to be immediately, as an apprentice to the Printing Business.

FORT WAYNE SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1845.

As Judge Borden's health continues very precarious, it is doubtful whether he will be able to attend the Steuben Circuit Court.

To our Country Friends.—We will receive Butter, Eggs, Cheese, Beef, Pork, Flour, Corn, Potatoes, Wood or almost any kind of Country Produce, in payment for the Sentinel. For the past two years, on account of the deficiency of the crops, we have received but little from our country subscribers. We waited patiently through their season of adversity, and we hope now when Providence has bountifully smiled on their labors, that we shall not be forgotten.

Persons wishing to take the Sentinel can pay in Produce.

MEXICO.—By the news from Mexico in another column, it will be seen that all prospect of war is at an end. The advance of the troops towards Texas is stopped; the officers are quarreling among themselves; and the country is evidently on the eve of another military revolution.

In this state of things it is unnecessary to look for any further offensive operations on the part of Mexico against the United States. But even if matters had not come to this crisis we have done.

The Mexicans have done all they ever would dare, to do—that is, they have issued numerous very valiant and fierce manifestoes and proclamations; but seeing that these were disregarded by the Americans, and that such a force was concentrating on their frontiers as it would be dangerous to meddle with, they have withdrawn from the contest, satisfied with their achievements on paper, in which, as they had all their own way, they were in no danger of being worsted.

The prudent and energetic course of President Polk, has in all probability averted a war. Had we made no show of resistance, the Mexicans might probably have been induced to invade Texas.

But the appearance of the United States troops on the Nueces showed them at once that such an enterprise would be attended with danger, and they wisely abandoned it.

The rumored engagement between the U. S. troops and Mexicans, to which we alluded in our last, turns out, as we expected, to be a Racket.

MAINE ELECTION.—By the returns received it is certain that the democrats have elected a majority in both branches of the Legislature. John F. Salmon, dem., is elected to Congress from the 1st (York) district, to fill a vacancy, by a majority of 900 to 100. In 26 towns Anderson, dem., received 27,515 votes; Mores, whig, 25,639. Scattering 5,373. In these towns, Anderson has a majority of 4,577 over the whig candidate; but lacks 496 of a majority over all. The result to be heard from is estimated will give him a clear majority over all.

The Democratic Review for September is embellished by a beautiful mezzotint engraving of Gen. Jackson in his last days, from a daguerreotype portrait taken in April last. The contents of this are unusually rich and varied, and are from the pens of some of the most distinguished American writers of the age. The contents are—Political Patriotic; La Vendetta, a tale from the French; The Young Virginian, a tale; Hurlock's Essays on Government; Abel's Geological Tour; Love's Labours A Word for Italy; American Home & Labour; Life in the Prairie Land; Monthly Finance and Commercial Article; New Books for the Month.

Terms, Three Dollars per annum—secretes the value of the portraits it contains.

J. L. GUTHRIE, Publisher.

136 Nassau street, N. York.

Dr. Ladd's Popular Lectures on Science and Art.

—We have received Part X. of this classic, but valuable work, published by Messrs. Greeley and McElrath, Tribune Buildings, N. York. The Lectures in this part are—Conduction of Heat—Relation of Heat and Light—Composition and Resolution of Force—Centre of Gravity—Lever and Wheelwork.

It is published semi-monthly, each part containing 50 large pages, of very neat letter press, and illustrated with numerous engravings, and diagrams—price 25 cents. It will be completed in 12 or 14 parts, forming two large and handsome octavo volumes.

The Farmer's Library, and Monthly Journal of Agriculture, Edited by JOHN S. SKINNER.—Messrs. Greeley & McElrath of the New York Tribune, have commenced the publication of an extremely valuable work, under the above title, the first three numbers of which we have received. It is published monthly, each No. containing about one hundred pages, illustrated by engravings, for $50 per annum. Each No. consists of two distinct parts. The Farmer's Library—and the Monthly Journal of Agriculture, and is so arranged that they may be bound separately, making two volumes of 600 pages each.

In THE FARMER'S LIBRARY will be published continuously the best standard Works on Agriculture, embracing many which by their cost, and the language in which they are written, would otherwise be beyond the reach of most American Farmers. By this arrangement the choicest European Treatises and Researches in Agriculture, costing many dollars in the original articles, may be obtained for a few cents, and with the added advantage of being accompanied by increased note, and explanations of the editor, what might otherwise be obscure, to the American reader, or calculated to mislead, owing to the difference in soil, climate, &c. The September No. commences the publication of The Principles of Agriculture, by Albert D. Thaer, a highly distinguished German philosopher, and author of several Agricultural works of great celebrity in Europe. The July and August Nos. contain Lectures to Farmers on Agricultural Chemistry, by Alexander Petzoldt.

The Monthly Journal of Agriculture comprises selections from the higher class of English, German, and French Agricultural Periodicals.

Editorial communications of experiments, improved modes of culture, new implements, &c. &c.

We hope the enterprising publisher may be liberally sustained in this attempt to furnish the farmers of our country with a good standard Agricultural Library, and we hope no farmer who can possibly spare $5.00 will be deterred by the apparent high price of the work from subscribing. It will be worth ten times the price to any one who will study it attentively, and strive to profit by the information it contains.

Exterior.—H. G. Green, who was convicted at Troy, N. Y. of the murder, by poison, of his wife, to whom had only been married a few days, was executed on the 10th inst. He appeared quite penitent, and conducted himself with much calmness and fortitude, though he was very weak and debilitated. After he had hung about ten minutes, the Rev. Mr. Van Kieck, the clergyman who attended him, informed those present that he had made a full and free confession of the crime for which he was executed, acknowledging the justice of his sentence, expressing deep penitence for his crime, and hoping for salvation through the merits of his Saviour.

Strong efforts were made by many, opposed to capital punishment, to have his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life, but Governor Wright declined interfering.

UNITED STATES SENATOR.

The Democratic papers throughout the State are expressing their preferences for U. S. Senator. Several distinguished gentlemen are named among the most prominent of whom are Messrs. Owen, Whitcomb, Bright, and Chamberlain.—The nominations, or rather recommendations, are generally made in the best kind of a spirit, and a disposition appears manifest on the part of the respective friends of these gentlemen to have the selection made fairly and satisfactorily, and cheerfully to acquiesce in it when made.

None of the gentlemen named would seek or accept the nomination on any other terms; we think we know enough of the purity and attachment to principle of all of them, to touch for this on their behalf.

We copied a paragraph from the Madison paper, a week or two ago, stating that Mr. Bright would not be a candidate. This statement has since been modified; Mr. Bright does not seek the nomination but if the choice should fall on him, he would be proud to accede to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, shape, or form." This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man, who, divided by the State, not to act in, and he only should he chosen, who can perform it with the most honor and advantage to the State.

Among several others every way well qualified to discharge these duties in a manner to entitle him upon the State and credit to themselves, the name of Hon. Robert Dale Owen, in our opinion, is among the foremost. We are aware that this gentleman is too modest to descend into the political arena to buckster for support. The station must be his as a free will offering, unstought, as was the office of President by J. K. Polk, or not at all. Mr. O.'s reputation is not confined to his own state; he is favorably known not only throughout the Union, but in Europe, as an able political economist, a gentleman of great literary and scientific attainments, and of unspotted purity of character.

In the 28th Congress, he rankled deservedly among the first for ability, influence, extensive information, great oratorical power, and indomitable active business habits. It is no more than strict justice to say, that in all the essential characteristics of a statesman, no member of the House stood higher than he, and none who had obtained such enviable distinction in so short a time.

There is another consideration, which, in our opinion, should extend to Mr. O. the favorable consideration of the Legislature.—We refer to his able advocacy of the rights of labor. None have surpassed, and but few equalled him, in the earnestness, ability, and research which he has brought to bear upon this subject. It is this which is fast making him one of the most popular men in the country. And we doubt not that his election as Senator would meet the wishes of much of the largest portion of the whole party, and with a few exceptions, of nearly all in Northern Indiana.

For the above reasons we individually prefer Mr. OWEN, although we should be perfectly satisfied should this high trust be committed to the able keeping of either Gov. Whitcomb or Hon. D. Bright.

[The Toesin copies our article, suggesting the name of Hon. E. M. Chamberlain, and add:—

Before receiving the "Fort Wayne sentinel," we had printed the article in our next U. S. Senator," which gives a full account upon this subject in full.

As to our friend Judge CHAMBERLAIN, who has won such golden opinions by able and dignified manner in which he has performed the duties of President Judge of his Circuit the above is the first intimation we have received of his being spoken of for the office. The Goshen Democrat has said nothing of it; and we do not know whether he would desire to be a candidate. But without wishing to disparage any of them we are free to say that he heartily concurred in all that has been said by any one in favor of Gov. Whitcomb and Robert Dale Owen. We point to them with feelings of pride as men of whom not only the Democratic party, but the State may well be proud, and upon whose services they have a just claim. They are just the men for the station they occupy. Whitcomb three years ago was the first choice of old Elkhart all the time for Governor, and through his agency was his nomination affected.—His career as chief Magistrate of the State proves him to be worthy of the confidence reposed in him, and in that situation we hope to see him for three years longer.

Mr. Owen's career in Congress has been brief but full of honor. His district is devotedly attached to him—he has been re-elected by an increased vote, and can continue to do as long as he may desire a seat in Congress. He would be an ornament to this part, twenty six days from to-day.

The accounts from Vera Cruz of the 29th state that there has been a retrograde movement in regard to the invasion of Texas—General Paredes absolutely refusing to march with his forces (seven thousand troops) towards Texas; that he has himself repaired to Mexico, and others have followed his example. The opinion was pretty well established in Vera Cruz, that the Mexicans will never attempt to cross the Rio Bravo; that they have made all the bluster they can, that they are without money, without credit, and consequently powerless; and that they are, moreover, on the eve of a revolution, which will overturn the present government.

Accounts for the following day (the 30th August,) from Vera Cruz, represent that there can be no doubt of a plan being nearly ripe to overturn the present government; and that Gen. Paredes, with Torrel and Valenzuela, propose forming a triumvirate. It is said that Gen. Paredes cares nothing about federalism, but intended to make himself dictator.

He is a man of equal ability with any who have been mentioned, and would fill the station with honor and credit.

(his passport—the government having refused balance instanter.

He is an sunshine politician—his Dr. to grant him the satisfaction he demanded.—Fancy never fails—he joins no cabal—he ponders no clique—he unites with no conspiracy against the public good—he stoops to no intrigue for selfish ends. In short he is just the man for the occasion.

But while saying this much we are well aware that the Goshen Democrat cannot settle this question. We have suggested his name, not as a spirit of dictation, but to elicit friendly discussion, that the representatives of the people may be better prepared to reflect the public will. Let the merits of all be treated with candor and respect, and then will our discussions result in perpetuating the harmony and unity of the party, and the honor of our State.—Goshen Democrat.

From the Indian Tocsin.

THE NEXT U. S. SENATOR.
One of the first and most important acts of our Legislature will be the election of an U. S. Senator. It is of vital importance to the interests of the state and the reputation of the party, that a staunch, able and unwavering Democrat be chosen to fill this important seat—a man sound to the core on the tariff, the Currency, the Oregon and Texas questions—one who is talented, active, energetic and efficient, and in whose ability, the whole people can place the utmost confidence.

We hope, therefore, that the legislature, in their selection will be guided solely by the public interests. To this, questions of precedence, of personal choice, the location of the candidate and all sectional feeling should yield. Let Indians follow the noble example of New England and New York and send one of their best men. It is sheer folly to say that this that or the other portion of the state is entitled to fill the post. Our eminent men belong to the State, not to section; and he only should be chosen, who can perform it with the most honor and advantage to the State.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 19th states that a rumor had prevailed for three days in the capital of a military revolt in one section of the army under Gen. Filisola, on its march to Texas.

Letters have been received at Tamico from San Luis Potosi, which announce the formation of a Cabinet. We cannot make room for their letters of acceptance of office, all dated August 14th. They are fully silent about the foreign relations of the country and war with the United States.

The Siglo of the 1

Valuable real Estate for sale

AT AND NEAR HUNTINGTON, Ia.

STHE east half north east quarter section 23, town 28, north range 10, containing 80 acres, situated 14 miles from Huntington, on the road to Dayton, via Fort Recovery, 20 acres of which are cleared and fenced.

North west or of the same section, adjoining said lot

West half south west qr section 31, town 28, worth range 10 east, containing 95-24-100 acres, lying adjoining the Wabash River, about three miles from Huntington, with 20 acres of land.

LOT NO. 18, 19, 20, containing from 7 to 8 acres, adjoining the town of Huntington, now in meadow, and well inclosed with a good board fence.

LOT NO. 17, near the upper lock, and adjoining said meadow, containing from two to acres, enclosed with a good board fence.

LOT NO. 69, on the canal with a Log Cabin House thereon.

One Town Lot with a valuable two story Store House and Stables, under and above, with three acres of land, being the State built and formerly occupied by George A. Fiske, late of Huntington, deceased.

All of which land and other property was formerly owned by said Fiske in his life time, and the land well selected at an early day, and is of a superior quality.

The title to the same is good.

This term will be one-third, or one-half, and a credit of 12 and 18 months, on the balance, by giving notes with approved security. For further particulars apply to the subscriber at Fort Wayne.

HENRY COOPER.

1845.

JAMES H. ROBINSON.

June 26th, 1845.

W. V. SNYDER.

FARMING LANDS

For Sale.

THE subscriber will give particular attention to sales of Land, payment of Taxes, and all other matters pertaining to the business of a General Land Agency.

for Northern Indiana. Herow, as Agent for the owners, offers for sale valuable lands in Northern Indiana, viz.—in Lake Co., 15,500 acres, Wabash, 161;

Steuben, 710 Miami, 1124;

Noble, 160 Cass, 735;

Wells, 560 Elkhart, 722;

Clinton, 503 Marshall, 64;

Also, for sale, 5000 acres in Michigan.

Terms of sale will be made favorable to purchasers.

For particulars, apply to the subscriber by letter, (post paid,) or at his office in Mason's building, corner of Columbia and Calhoun streets, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

JOSEPH K. EDGERTON.

Fort Wayne, March 8th, 1845.

L. G. BELLAMY.

FEW TONS first rate Spanish and Eastern Sails and Upper Luff, recently received, and more coming, will be sold remarkably low, my 3.

G. BELLAMY.

MISS PAUL'S FASHIONABLE MILLINERY

BERRY STREET, [Opposite the Market House.]

INDIANA.

MISS PAUL respectfully informs the customers of her late mother, and the ladies of Fort Wayne in general, that she intends to continue the business in the house formerly occupied by Rev. Mr. Rankin, opposite the Market house, where she will be happy to receive the calls of their old friends.

She has a new Patent Bonnet Press she can do them in a superior manner.

A portion of its contents entered my right side; and in all probability, some fragments or splinters of the rancid passed through the "plura," and plucked the Lungs.

After the lapse of about six weeks, I was attacked with a distressing cough and violent pain in my right side, and ten days after, when a portion of the sputum was from the explosion a chronic.

A portion of its contents entered my right side; and in all probability, some fragments or splinters of the rancid passed through the "plura," and plucked the Lungs.

Language fails to describe the salutary effects it produced, and the great benefit I derived from its use.

The citizens of Dayton, and vicinity, well reflect, that on the 1st of August, I was removed from the hospital, from the explosion a chronic.

A portion of its contents entered my right side; and in all probability, some fragments or splinters of the rancid passed through the "plura," and plucked the Lungs.

After the lapse of about six weeks, I was attacked with a distressing cough and violent pain in my right side, and ten days after, when a portion of the sputum was from the explosion a chronic.

A portion of its contents entered my right side; and in all probability, some fragments or splinters of the rancid passed through the "plura," and plucked the Lungs.

From this opening there frequently passed a quantity of air, supposed to issue from the Lungs. During all this time my sufferings were almost intolerable.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My physician, immediately, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of distress, after the Lung had been affected. I was visited during the time by at least twenty physicians.

It was now reduced to a certainty, that INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS was rapidly taking place, and that this would terminate my life in a very short time, unless some specific remedy could be found.

At this critical stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my situation, he remarked that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the constitution itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

THE FORT WAYNE SENTINEL.

FORT WAYNE, I.A., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1845.

VOLUME 6.—No. 23.

WHOLE NUMBER 569.

THOMAS TIGAR,

EDITOR & PUBLISHER.

IN THE THIRD STORY OF HARRIETT AND HANNA'S NEW BUILDING, COLUMBIA STREET.

TERMS:

$200 PER ANNUAL IN ADVANCE,
TO BE PAID WITHIN SIX MONTHS,
$50 AT THE END OF THE YEAR.

All letters of business must be post paid, or they will not be attended to.

Advertisements inserted for Ten cents per line for three weeks—Five cents for each subsequent insertion, when consisting of 10 lines or over; but no advertisement inserted for less than $1. Job Work done on the usual terms.

AMERICAN HOUSE;

(ON THE PUBLIC SQUARE.)

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA.

S. YOUNG WILLIAMS informs his friends & the travelling community that he has taken the above well known and commodious house, and is now prepared to furnish it to all who may wish to make their home here, under the worthy patronage of the public, and to give satisfaction to all who may call. His Trade & War will always be furnished with the best country afford, and every exertion made to promote and ensure the comfort and accommodation of his guests. As his charges will be moderate, he hopes to receive a share of the patronage of the most interesting public.

A good Standing with careful Hostess, and plenty of Room.

March 13, 1845.

To the People of Allen County,

THIS we now inform you that Dr. NEW DAULYS of the Law Practice, and the PEIRCE PILLS will be glad to furnish to Dr. L. BREWER of Fort Wayne his just received another fresh supply. The former quantity and throughout the past alone superseded the necessity of saying one word in support of their character.—Yet should any one be inclined to question the value of their services, he has but to compare with James BACK, Rheumatism, Uropeasias, etc. in the Breast or side, or with Swelling, Tumors, Kings Evil, etc. (or either of which the PLASTER is known to be a sure antidote) or with Liver Affectives, Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, etc. etc. in any of the above diseases present in the Welsh Country, and will find it abundantly evident to remove the Benefit of such a good cause as this.

The practitioner is compelled to collect the same by distinguishing and selling property for his purpose.

W. R. LOUGHRIE,
Treasurer Huntington County.

June 21, 1845.

June 21, 1845.</

Apprentice Wanted.

Buy 14 to 16 years of age wanted at this office immediately, as an apprentice to the Printing Business.

FORT WAYNE SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1845.

At Judge Bonham's health continues very precarious; it is doubtful whether he will be able to attend the Steuben-Circuit Court.

To our Country Friends—We will receive Butter, Eggs, Cheese, Beef, Pork, Flour, Corn, Potatoes, Wool or almost any kind of Country Produce, in payment for the Sentinel. For the past two years, on account of the deficiency of the crops, we have received but little from our country subscribers. We waited patiently through their season of adversity, and we hope now when Providence has kindly smiled upon their labors, that we shall not be forgotten.

Persons wishing to take the Sentinel can pay in Produce.

MEXICO.—By the news from Mexico in another column, it will be seen that all prospect of war is at an end. The advance of the troops towards Texas is stopped; the officers are quarreling among themselves; and the country is evidently on the eve of another military revolution. In this state of things it is unnecessary to look for any further offensive operations on the part of Mexico against the United States. But even if matters had not come to this crisis we do not apprehend that any thing would have been done. The Mexicans here done all they ever would dare, to do—that is, they have issued numerous very violent and fierce accusations and proclamations; but seeing that those were disregarded by the Americans, and that such a force was concentrating on their frontier as it would be dangerous to meddle with, they have withdrawn from the contest, satisfied with their achievements on paper, in which, as they had it all their own way, they were in no danger of being mortified.

The prudent and energetic course of President Polk, has in all probability averted a war. Had we made no show of resistance, the Mexicans might probably have been induced to invade Texas. But the appearance of the United States troops on the Nueces allowed them at once that such an enterprise would be attended with danger, and they wisely abandoned it.

The mutual engagement between the U. S. troops and Mexicans, to which we alluded in our last, turns out, as we expected, to be a Roorbach.

MAINE ELECTORAL.—By the returns received it is certain that the democrats have elected a majority in both branches of the legislature. John F. Morrison, dem., is elected to Congress from the 1st (York) district, to fill a vacancy, by a majority of 900 to 1000. In 2d Townsend, dem., received 25,615 votes: Morse, whig, 22,638. Senter, 5,373. In these towns, Anderson has a majority of 4,877 over the whig candidate; but lacks 496 of a majority over all. The League to listen from it is estimated will give him a clear majority over all.

The Democratic Review in September is established by a beautiful mezzotint engraving of Gen. Jackson in his last days, from a daguerreotype portrait taken in April last. The contents of the review are, unusually rich and varied, and are from the pens of some of the most distinguished American writers of the age. The contents are—Political Patriarch; La Vendetta, a tale from the French; The Young Tragedian, a tale; Hartard's Essays on Government; Everett's Geological Tour; Love's Letters; A Word for Italy; American humor; Labor; Life in the Prairie Land; Monthly Financial and Commercial Article; New Books for the Month. Terms, Three Dollars per annum—scarcely the value of the pictorial contents.

J. L. O'SULLIVAN, Publisher,

136 Nassau street, N. York.

Dr. Ladd's Popular Lecture on Science and Art.—We have received Part X. of this chest, but valuable work, published by Meers, Greeley and McElrath, Tribune Building, N. York. The lecture in this part are on—Conduction of Heat—Relation of Heat and Light—Composition and Resolution of Force—Centres of Gravity—Lever and Wheelwork.

It is published semi-monthly, each part containing 100 large pages, of very neat letter press, and illustrated with numerous engravings, and diagrams—price 25 cents. It will be completed in 12 or 14 parts, forming two large and handsome volumes.

THE FARMER'S LIBRARY and MONTHLY JOURNAL OF AGRICULTURE, EDITED BY JOHN S. STANNARD.—Meers, Greeley & McElrath, of the New York Tribune, have commenced the publication of an extremely valuable work, under the above title, the first three numbers of which we have received. It is published monthly, each No. containing about one hundred pages, illustrated by engravings, for $3.00 per annum. Each No. consists of two distinct parts. The Farmer's Library—and The Monthly Journal of Agriculture, and is so arranged that they may be bound separately, making two volumes of 600 pages each.

In THE FARMER'S LIBRARY will be published continuously the best standard Works on Agriculture, embracing many which by their cost or language in which they are written, would otherwise be beyond the reach of most American Farmers. By this arrangement the choicest European Treatises and Researches in Agriculture, costing many dollars in the original articles, may be obtained for a few shillings, and with the further advantage of being accompanied by notes and explanations of the editor, of what might otherwise be obscure to the American reader, or calculated to mislead, owing to the difference in soil, climate, &c. The September No. commences the publication of The Principles of Agriculture, by Albert D. Thuer, a highly distinguished German philosopher, and author of several Agricultural works of great celebrity in Europe. The July and August Nos. contain Lectures to Farmers on Agricultural Chemistry, by Alexander Hirschfeld.

The Monthly Journal of Agriculture, comprising selections from the higher class of English, German, and French Agricultural Periodicals, Editorials; communications of experiments, improved modes of culture, new implements, &c. &c.

We hope the enterprising publishers may be liberally rewarded in this attempt to furnish the farmers of our country with a good standard Agricultural Library; and we hope no farmer, who can possibly spare $5.00 will be deterred by the apparent high price of the work from subscribing. It will be worth ten times the price to any one who will study it attentively, and derive profit by the information it contains.

Execution.—H. G. Green, who was convicted at Troy, N. Y. of the murder, by poison, of his wife, to whom he had only been married a few days, was executed on the 16th inst. He appeared quite penitent, and conducted himself with much calmness and fortitude, though he was very weak and debilitated. After he had hung about ten minutes, the Rev. Mr. Van Krich, the clergyman who attended him, informed those present that he had made a full and free confession of the crime for which he was executed, acknowledging the justice of his sentence, expressing deep penitence for his crime, and his desire for salvation through the merits of the Saviour.

Strong efforts were made by many, opposed to capital punishment, to have his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life, but Governor Wright declined interfering.

UNITED STATES SENATOR.

The Democratic papers throughout the State are expressing their preference for U. S. Senator.

Several distinguished gentlemen are named among the most prominent of whom are Messrs. Owen, Whitecomb, Bright, and Chamberlain. The nominations, or rather recommendations, are generally made in the best kind of a spirit, and a disposition appears manifest on the part of the respective friends of these gentlemen to have the selection made fairly and satisfactorily, and cheerful to all concerned.

None of the gentlemen named would seek or accept the nomination on any other terms; we think we know enough of the purity and attachment to principle of all of them, to couch them on their behalf.

We enclose a paragraph from the Madison paper, a week or two ago, stating that Mr. Bright could not be a candidate. This statement has since been modified; Mr. Bright does not seek the nomination, but if the choice should fall on him, he would be proud to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form." This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our beloved Mr. Polk, we hope, will be ready to decide to the wishes of his fellow citizens. We have seen a letter from Mr. B. addressed to a friend in this place, in which he says: "I am not a candidate, nor will I be, if the use of my name mars the peace and harmony of the democratic cause in any way, or form."

This is just what might be expected from that gentleman, by those who know him best; he is the last man who would, for the sake of personal pretension, divide or distract his party.

Mr. Owen, too, is equally determined not to allow his name to be used to further the schemes of those who would wish to destroy the harmony of the party. We find the following extracts of a letter from him in the State Sentinel:

"I desire no office at the expense of the union of the party; and if I cannot become Senator with the consent and good will of those who represent the burden and heat of the day, I am content to let others fill the post. Our

Valuable real Estate for sale

AT AND NEAR HUNTINGTON, Ia.
THIS is the last and greatest real estate in Section 23, town 28, north range 9 east, containing 50 acres, situated 14 miles from Huntington, on the road to Dayton via Fort Recovery, 20 acres of which are cleared and fenced.

North west pr of north end of the same section, adjoining last lot.

West half contains 100 acres, Section 31, town 29, west of town 10 east, containing 95-34-190 acres, lying adjoining the Wabash River, about three miles from Huntington, with 40 acres developed.

LOTS Nos. 18, 19, and 21, containing from 74 to 80 acres, adjoining the town of Huntington, and in meadow, and well enclosed with a good board fence.

Lot No. 17, near the upper look, and adjoining said meadow, containing from one to two acres, inclosed with a good board fence.

Lot No. 20, on the road with a Log Cabin thereto.

A lot situated at the canal bridge, at the lower end of the town, containing 6 or 7 acres.

The lots Nos. 64, 65, and 66, near the last mentioned, with a good State threene.

Town Lots Nos. 63 and 67 with a Dwelling House thereon.

One Town Lot with a valuable two story Store House and Store Cellars.

The same, with two or three acres of land,
the store being a two story building.

Western Oak Tanned Sole, of a superior quality,
as well as will be found in the Eastern market,
and very cheap, per pair, more than Bradbury made.

Upper Leather, Kid and Calf Skins,
Morocco, Lining and Binding Skins,

Harness, Stirring, Bell and Bridle Leather,
Finings for Shoe Manufacturers—Gadgets

and Shoe Trimmings, Tools of all kinds Tanner and Currier Tools, of all kinds
Old and Laundry Black. Also

Boots and Shoes,
Caterpillar, or made to measure, and warranted with the price sold for.

WANTED—Money and Banks, for which Cash will immediately be paid.

JAMES H. ROBINSON,
Fort Wayne, May 17, 1845.

IRON & NAILS.—Composing a complete set of ornament of Bush Iron, Steel, Round and Square for Spheras, Solder and Hot-dip iron and Nail Works, all sizes of cut and straight Nails and Spikes, for sale by

PETER P. BAILEY,
At the "New York Hardware Store,"

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA.

PAIR OF WINGS.—A pair of two half inches long, with two small wings, and
the same, with two or three inches of land,
the store being a two story building.

Atmospheric Lamp, and other articles
of various sizes, which have no location in carrying one of the best assortments that has ever appeared in Fort Wayne.

This lamp is of the same kind, and is well selected at an early day, and is of a superior quality.

The title to the same is good.

The terms will be one-third, or two half cents,
and a credit of 12 and 15 months on the bill, and by giving names with approval, security. For the particulars apply to the subscriber at Fort

Wayne.

HENRY COOTCH,
June 26th, 1845.

WISTAR'S
Balsam of Wild Cherry,
THE GREAT AMERICAN REMEDY
For Lung Complaints, and all Affections of the Respiratory Organs.

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION!—Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—Always in complaint!—Cure follows Cure in its onward Victorious Career!

DAYTON, February 11, 1845.

Mrs. J. W. WHITMORE—Dear Sirs: As you are the regular authorized agent, and for the sake of the public, I desire to call your attention to the fact that Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, taken in a measured amount, in a statement of facts, to which I have been able to publish to the world, in reference to an almost miraculous cure, was wrought in my case by means of the above in valuable Balsam.

Lunging fails to describe the salutary effects it produced, and the great benefit I derived from it.

The citizens of Dayton and vicinity well recollect, that, on the 1st of August last, I received serious injury from the explosion of a gun.

A portion of its contents entered my right side, and in all probability, some fragments of splinters
of the gunpowdery mass through the "plaster," and placed the Lung.

After the loss of part of his spleen, I was at first much distressing cough, and violent pain in my right side. Some ten days after this, when to a party of friends, on my barge, and a large quantity of very offensive matter, mixed with blood, was discharged; most of which would pass through the opening of the wound.

From this opening there frequently passed a quantity of air, supposed to come from the Lung, during all the time my suffering was almost unbearable.

My physicians, meanwhile, paid the strictest attention to me, and did all in their power for my recovery. But with all their skill, they could not reach the seat of disease, after the Lung had been affected, and were during this time at a loss what to do.

I was reduced to a state of extreme infirmity,
that rendered me incapable of taking place, and that would dominate my life in a very short time, was in the highest degree probable.

At this instant stage, a messenger was despatched to Cincinnati, and a celebrated physician of that place was consulted. When he was made acquainted with my affection, he said, that nothing could be done by medical aid, if the consumption itself was not sufficient to throw off the disease.

My friends now despaired of my recovery, and I had no earthly ground of hope to survive many days. Fortunately, at this juncture, I saw one of Dr. Wistar's Agents, who called to see him, and informed him of the success of Wistar's Balsam in curing Consumption, and the cure of the Lung.

He then advised me to go to Wistar's Agent in Fort Wayne, where he will be happy to receive the details of all his friends.

She will then, clean and alter Straw and Lining Hats and Bonnets in the nestest style.

Having a Patent Bonnet Protagonist to do them in a superior manner. She also keeps on hand the latest order SILK BONNETS, CAPS, and Gloves.

Consumers will apply to F. P. RANDALL,
Fort Wayne.

WM. C. HOLGATE, Agent.

MISS PAUL'S
FASHIONABLE
MILLINERY
HICKORY STREET,
[Opposite the Market
House.]

Port Wayne, INDIANA.

JOSEPH R. EDGERTON,
Port Wayne, March 6th, 1845.

50 Dozen Paint Brushes

All sizes and of superior quality; also Varient Brushes, Sash Tools, Wall Brushes, to which we would call the attention of Painters and Dealers.

For sale wholesale and retail, at Reed's Drug Store. Also Thermometers for sale at Reed's.

W. V. ENDER,
Port Wayne, Indiana.

PAIR OF WINGS.—A pair of two half
inches long, with two small wings, and
the same, with two or three inches of land,
the store being a two story building.

Atmospheric Lamp, and other articles
of various sizes, which have no location in carrying
one of the best assortments that has ever appeared in Fort Wayne.

This lamp is of the same kind, and
is well selected at an early day, and is of a superior quality.

The title to the same is good.

The terms will be one-third, or two half cents,
and a credit of 12 and 15 months on the bill, and
by giving names with approval, security. For
the particulars apply to the subscriber at Fort

Wayne.

HENRY COOTCH,
May 17, 1845.

FIRST ARRIVAL

Hats! Hats!

Spring Fashions for 1845.

THE NEW YORK
Contribution Fire Insurance Co.

No. 57, WALL-STREET.

WE appointed PETER P. BAILEY their Agent to make insurance in Fort Wayne and its vicinity upon Houses, Barns, Stores, Mills, Merchandise, Household Furniture, and every variety of Personal Property against loss or damage by FIRE.

GEORGE W. ROCKERS, President.

R. W. MCKEEAN, Secretary.

J. SMITH, Director.

J. SMITH